

Best Practice 1

Title of the practice:- Co-curricular activities in college involving maximum number of students.

Objectives of the Practice :-

1. To develop confidence among students
2. To develop their managerial skill.
3. To improve their spoken skill.
4. To make them aware about social issues, various national and international organizations, literacy in Hindi and English, health related issues and their solutions, laws related with safety of girls student, and crime against women and laws related with this.
5. To improve their inherent talent of dance, singing, painting, literary skill, artistic skill.

The Context:-

This college is situated in rural area where there is lack of educational awareness . At this college, we try to aware students about importance of education. Large number of students come from economically poor background. They do not show confidence and presentation skill. Keeping this point in mind, we developed a system of organizing co-curricular activities. Initially students were hesitant in taking part in these activities. We tried with small group and slowly and slowly number of students goes on increasing in each and every event. Student started to enjoy the performance of presenter as well as their own presentation.

The Practice :-

In the early years, we were organizing the programs without making a planner . But soon we realize that we should have calendar of proposed activities to be carried out during the session. Students clubs were constructed. Teacher incharges registered 10 to 15 volunteer students which helped in organizing these events successfully. This was the first step when we were able to attract more and more students in the program. This step develop confidence among the students and they show interest in making the list of participants, handling the stage and carrying out co-curricular activities. Involvement of student in organizing event is unique feature of our practice, which tremendously increased number of participating students. We make list of activities to be organized throughout the session. Here we focus on each and every aspect of life. We were having this thing in mind that by organizing such type of activities we will inculcate human values like honesty, professional ethics, national integrity, serving for society, contribution of famous person in development of nation, sensitivity to environment, importance of good health etc.

We organized activities under NSS, women and development cell, CV Ramana science subject society, Gyanpeeth kala society, Red Cross, placement cell, etc

Programs were organized online as well as off-line. Under women development cell programmes like save the girls child, women empowerment, marriages with no dowry, safe workplace for women, health, and hygiene issue related with women. Under NSS, students performed Nukkad nataka on various issues like over use of mobile phone, save electricity , drugs, and its effect on youth,. Students with teacher in charges carried out rally in nearby area relating with save Girl child, stop stubble burning, awareness about traffic rules, run for unity etc.

Students carried out cleaning work in area nearby to college. City people were awared about importance of neat and clean surroundings.

Evidence of Success:-

- Deepika Kumari was awarded by Indira Gandhi University Meerpur as best volunteer NSS for the session 2020-2021. She also participated in very large number of online program during Covid-19 and did lot of social work. Also at present, this student is associated with NGO named youth social gram foundation and is working as representative from Haryana state in management committee.
- Students were hesitant in visiting other places in the beginning. Their parents also were not interested in sending their words to other places, but as we advanced, students show interest in attending camps carried out by NSS ,Red Cross.
- Students participated in youth festival , quiz competition organized by other colleges. They did not get position for most of the time, but we were happy that we passed one stage where students are interested to participate in competitions organized by nearby colleges. This indicates that they have improved their level of confidence.
- One minute video activity was organized in college where students were motivated to prepare video of one minute mentioning their goal. Very large number of students participated in this activity and presented their video.
- College magazine, Durga was published where teachers as well as students gave their articles with full enthusiasm and with their effort, our first issue of college magazine was published.
- YouTube channel of college was established where Mrs. Santosh Yadav uploaded videos related with how to improve confidence.
- Students make video at several occasion and these were also uploaded on the channel.
- Mrs. Pinki Prajapat uploaded videos related with human values, UN day, national symbols, famous festivals.
- Mrs. Sudesh uploaded video related with energy conservation, human values.
- Many more videos were uploaded on YouTube channel related with global issues.
